

DR. JONES' PAPER STARTS MOVE FOR CIVIC MORALITY

Goodfellowship Club Endorses Arraignment of the Church Factors; Wants Remedial Program

MOOTS BILLIARDS IN Y. M. C. A.

Question Is Raised as to the Propriety of Tables Operated in Connection with Home

URGES SUNDAY CLOSING MOVE

Meeting Favors Organization of Business and Professional Men for Law Enforcement

Following the reading of the paper dealing with spiritual and moral conditions in La Crosse, in which churches, pastors, laymen and public officials were criticised sharply by Dr. D. C. Jones of the Presbyterian church, members of the Goodfellowship club last night engaged in a discussion of the article in which there were endorsement, suggestions and criticism.

Mainly the adverse comment upon the paper was that while it made its case of condemnation, it failed to outline a workable remedy.

Moot Billiard Question

Members suggested that important omissions were failure to discuss the effect of pool, billiards and cigarettes, and out of this came a pointed question as to whether the Y. M. C. A. does wrong in maintaining billiard tables in its home building.

There was unanimity in the opinion that the frank discussion of conditions in La Crosse should lead to an awakening upon the important questions involved.

For Sunday Services

That churches should not abandon their Sunday evening services was one of the emphatic affirmatives expressed at the meeting. It was urged that since people find it possible to go to other places Sunday evening, certainly with equal convenience they can attend church. Too few attend church, but to make this excuse for giving up and closing the churches is to lose all opportunity of educating them back to Sunday evening devotion. The duty of pastors to keep Sunday evening religious instruction open to all is more strongly imposed because there are some people who cannot attend morning services and find in the evenings their only opportunity.

What Hurts Churches

Picture shows and other entertainments were offered as the external reasons for non-attendance, while among the internal reasons urged were worldliness of pastors whom policy or cowardice prevents from preaching frank, practical and truly spiritual sermons dealing fearlessly with evil conditions in social and business spheres. That influence of members who dislike to be confronted with evils for which directly or indirectly they have a measure of responsibility serves as a censorship of pulpits is a fact that destroys confidence in church among the people. The pastors do not all dare even to preach the gospel of Christ and his apostles.

For Sunday Closing

That the professional and business element of the city should unite for Sunday closing of saloons, theaters and billiard halls was the unanimous opinion of the meeting.

Another criticism that found favor

was contained in the suggestion that pastors are too much devoted to their wealthy parishioners and are neglectful of the poor.

MARCH FROM FIRE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 12.—Forty-seven orphans marched out of the German Lutheran orphan's home in their nightgowns early today when a fire was discovered in a bathroom. This was the second fire in two days. Boys in the home have admitted they were smoking "on the sly" and it was believed this accounts for both fires.

AMERICAN SURGEONS REPAIR SHATTERED FACES WITH RIBS AND TISSUE

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Disfigured faces of Europe's battle victims are to be re-made by American surgeons, backed by American dollars. Faces minus nose, jaws or lips are to be built up into human semblance again at an American hospital.

There are thousands of such faces awaiting reconstruction. The number repaired depends on the number of dollars America is willing to contribute to prevent Europe from becoming a continent of ghastly freaks.

Dr. R. Anema, a Paris orthodontist, who has been on the battlefields and in Paris hospitals for many months and is now in New York, said today that plans for an American hospital, to be devoted entirely to treatment of face wounds, are rapidly nearing completion. Backed by the American Red Cross which will furnish nurses, Dr. Anema has interested a number of American surgeons, dentists and orthodontists in the plan. An initial subscription of $20,000, of which the Red Cross will contribute $2,000, is sought to establish a hospital of 100 beds and maintain it for six months. The French government will furnish the building.

"Up to May 5 there were 55,750 instances of severe face and jaw wounds in the allied armies at the Franco-Flanders front," said Dr. Anema today.

The appearance of many was ghastly in the extreme. The few cases treated have shown need of a special hospital for them.

"Dr. H. Morstin, Paris surgeon, recently decorated with the Legion of Honor, has agreed to devote the greater part of his time to rebuilding faces of the wounded. We need, however, many American surgeons and dentists for jaw and teeth structure, preliminary to the rebuilding of noses, lips and shattered facial tissue.

"The men we treat may not look the same as before wounded, but their appearance will be nearly normal."

Photographs show the transformation such surgery works. Faces that before treatment appeared to be one ghastly wound, are nearly normal when rebuilt. Lips, cheeks and facial tissue are grafted on. The tissue is taken from the wounded man's thighs. A rib, spared without danger, serves to build a nose or a jawbone. Even mustaches can be formed by grafting pieces of the scalp, with the hair remaining.

Miss Mabel Boardman of the American Red Cross, one of the patrons of the American National Committee for the Foundation of a Special Hospital in Paris for Wounds of the Face and Jaws, which the organization is called, is aiding in receiving contributions. J. P. Morgan & Co. also will receive them. General Gordas, Dr. Samuel Lambert of New York and a number of prominent dentists and surgeons are included in the committee as patrons.

FEE COLLECTION IS ORDERED BY BOARD RESOLUTION TODAY

Clerk of Court Instructed to Charge Henceforth All Statutory Fees of Office

AIKEN ASKS INSTRUCTIONS

Followed Remissions Practiced by Predecessors He Tells County Board

Following a twenty minute session of questioning Clerk of Circuit Court Frank H. Aiken this morning, the county board of supervisors unanimously adopted a resolution, introduced by Supervisor W. C. Winter, which makes it mandatory for the clerk henceforth to collect all statutory fees of his office.

The resolution's only proviso was that the clerk should not be called upon to enter the county's fees in prosecuting criminal cases. Supervisor Valentine S. Keppel declared that the county's fees should not be collected but should be placed on record, as this practice would have to be carried out for the county to determine the earning power of the office.

Court Terms Shorter

When called upon to explain the cause of the decrease in the earnings of the office of clerk of court, Mr. Aiken maintained that the terms of court were greatly decreased in length.

"We used to have sixty day terms," said Mr. Aiken, "while now court only lasts a few days. I have endeavored to collect all fees, but there are a great many that we do not collect. I have remitted these on account of the fact that for ten or twelve years, my predecessors have not charged them, and I did not think it was just for me to do so. I would like to have definite instructions from the board as to just what fees I must collect."

To Pave City Streets?

Two appropriations aggregating the sum of $3,600 were asked for by Supervisor Walter C. Winter this morning for paving sections of north side streets in the city of La Crosse. The sum of $3,000 was asked for proposed improvement of Rose and George streets, and the sum of $600 for proposed work on Livingston street. The resolutions for appropriations contained the proviso that the city is to raise like sums for the work.

The Rockland State bank and the Bank of Mindoro, were added to the list.

Will These Get It?

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Two trans-Atlantic vessels, each heavily laden with human freight, are today supposed to be passing through the submarine zone in which the Italian liner Ancona was sunk with great loss of life. They are the White Star liner Cretic bound for Naples with 1,088 passengers and the Lloyd Italian liner Caserta bound for Naples with 1,200 passengers, a great number of whom are Italian reservists.

LAUNDRY TAG IS EXPECTED TO END QUILLIGAN MYSTERY

Chief Webber Believes that "Floater" Found in River During Fair Week Was "Silent John"

BODY RECORDED AS MUCH SHORTER

But Laundry Tag Found on Clothes Identified as Having Been Issued to Man of Mystery

A laundry tag marked "M65" is expected by Chief of Police John B. Webber to solve the mysterious disappearance of "Silent John" Quilligan, who dropped out of sight from the Doering hotel where he had lived for ten years, during fair week.

Thinks Floater "Silent John"

The tag was the only distinguishing mark found on the body of a man whose body was taken from the river at the foot of Division street during fair week. Although Coroner W. L. Tetley today insisted that the description of the body in no way matched that of Quilligan, the chief of police is sure that the body was "Silent John's."

He bases this belief on information furnished by the La Crosse Laundry. They identified the tag as theirs, and from their records declared it had been issued to Quilligan.

A discrepancy in the identification, however, is found in the fact that the coroner's records show the body recovered from the river to have been that of a man five feet eight inches tall. Quilligan was well over six feet.

Brother Sent For

Chief Webber has written to Don Quilligan, "Silent John's" brother in Prairie du Chien, asking him to come to La Crosse as soon as possible, to help solve the mystery. The chief believes that with the help of the brother he will be able to establish the "floater's" identity with the missing man of mystery.

SHIP FIRES SET IT IS BELIEVED

Captain of Italian Boat, Damaged in Gulf, Is of Opinion Bomb Was Responsible

HALIFAX, Nov. 12.—Belief that the British steamer Rio Lages may have been set afire was strengthened today by the discovery of what may prove to be a piece of time fuse in his sugar cargo.

The Rio Lages put back here a week ago with her sugar cargo afire. She had started from New York to Queenstown. The discovery was made by a longshoreman unloading the sugar bags.

GALVESTON, Texas, Nov. 12.—

Captain R. Rico, master of the Italian steamer Livietta, which caught fire in the Gulf of Mexico Tuesday and was beached six miles east of Sabine Pass late yesterday, reported to the Italian consul here that he believed his vessel was set afire by a bomb.

Officials are inclined to doubt the captain's theory, as he has nothing to support it other than the fact that the fire was preceded by a violent explosion. They pointed out this would be very liable to occur as the vessel carried 40,000 cases of gasoline and 80,000 cases of oil. It was bound for Buenos Aires. The fire was controlled early today.

HURTS RECEIVED IN STORM FATAL TO FOUR KANSANS

GREAT BEND, Kas., Nov. 12.—Death of four of the severely injured during the night, brought the toll of Wednesday evening's tornado here to six this morning. Three more in the hospital are in a dangerous condition.

Although hard hit by the storm, Great Bend asks no outside aid. More homes were thrown open for the homeless last night than were needed.

A relief committee is soliciting funds. Property loss here will reach a million.

GREEK PARLIAMENT DISSOLVED AND WAR PARTY IS FOILED

Venizelos Opponents Safe For Present as Special Election is Not Possible

ADVERSE VOTE NOT POSSIBLE

Acute Situation in Balkans Relieved Temporarily; Will Mobilize More Men

BERLIN, via Sayville Wireless, Nov. 12.—Twenty-seven members of the Greek parliament have deserted the war party, which ex-Premier Venizelos leads, so that the government has secured a neutral majority among the lawmakers, according to Athens information published today by the Basler Nachrichten.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—King Constantine finally has thrown down the gauntlet to the Greek war party.

Athens dispatches today announced his dissolution of parliament. No details were given further than that an election has been set for December 19, but what led up to his majesty's action was apparent.

When M. Skouloudis, the king's latest choice for a neutral premier, took office, he began negotiations with ex-Premier Venizelos, war leader in parliament, with a view to tolerating the pro-war group at least to tolerate his ministry. This was necessary, because the war party, being in a majority, could have forced his retirement by a vote of lack of confidence whenever they pleased. Venizelos evidently refused.

In dissolving parliament for a fresh referendum of the peace-or-war question, Constantine deliberately did what Venizelos declared he had no right to do, the question having been settled in Venizelos' opinion, in favor of war, by an election six months ago.

Constantine named an election date much earlier than was expected.

The impression was that he would try to delay until the present acute situation in the Balkans was past. He chose a time, however, when a genuine ballot is impossible, inasmuch as all the trained men of military age are with the colors and cannot vote. To the matters up still more completely, it is stated in Athens dispatches that even the Greeks who have never received military training are also to be mobilized immediately, increasing the army from 400,000 to 500,000 men.

Constantine presumably is convinced that he will get a mandate satisfactory to himself from the handful of electors who will be able to cast their ballots with the army completely mobilized.

Venizelos' course is watched from here with much anxiety. If he undertakes to rouse the country against the king, diplomats say they think the prospect excellent for a revolution.

TRAPPERS FIGHT LAW

NEW LONDON, Wis., Nov. 12.—The law which forbids trapping before November 15, instead of October 15, will be fought by trappers in the Fox river valley. Trappers say that muskrats are more numerous than ever and the price of fur is high. A test case will be made before the courts by the trappers.

DESPONDENT—DRINKS POISON

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Despondency over his physical condition caused Warren M. Peabody, who would have come into a fortune of $1,035,000 upon reaching his majority in a few months, to commit suicide by drinking poison in his home last night.

FORMER AUSTRIAN CONSUL SAYS TEUTONIC SPIES HONEYCOMB THIS NATION

REPORTS CONFLICT REGARDING THE ANCONA SINKING

Action of This Government in the Case Is Not Determined as Yet

DID VESSEL HEED WARNING?

The One Question Cannot Be Determined; Captain Says "Yes" While Passengers Deny It

BY BOND P. GEDDES

(United Press Staff Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Serious conflict in brief preliminary and inconclusive reports regarding the liner Ancona's sinking raised doubt among officials today regarding this government's future action. Even the exact number of Americans who perished was still in doubt.

Secretary of State Lansing today laid before President Wilson and the cabinet the reports so far received from American Ambassador Page of London, and American consuls. It was stated several days probably would lapse before information complete enough to support action by the United States would be available.

Grave concern was manifested over reports that Captain Messarda of the Ancona insists he stopped his vessel immediately following a warning shot from the submarine. Directly contradictory statements attributed to survivors that the Ancona attempted flight until overhauled, however, gave a less critical aspect.

If the various stories of officers and survivors continue to conflict, officials stated, formal inquiry would probably be made of Austria or Germany, or both, for the official versions of the admiralties, obtained from the submarine's commander.

Boat's Nationality Big Issue

Actual nationality of the attacking submarine is another question upon which official inquiry is riveted. The warning to Germany in the Lusitania case that a future unwarned attack upon a passenger liner would be considered "deliberately unfriendly" raised serious danger of eventualities with Berlin if it develops that the submarine attacking the Ancona was a German submersible. Severance of diplomatic relations with Germany has been the weapon held in reserve by this government in case Germany should violate her pledge to observe the law of nations and humanity.

Even if the Ancona tried to flee but later halted and tried to lower lifeboats and if these were bombarded, as some unofficial reports state, high officials declared the previous attempt at flight would not warrant the submarine shelling the lifeboats.

President Wilson is personally intensely interested in all reports of the case. The president and high administration officials, however, continue their policy of silence regarding this government's probable course.

All official comment is withheld and judgment suspended until the conflict of testimony is cleared up.

First Cable Irrelevant

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The first cable received by the New York office of the Italian line concerning the sinking of the Ancona arrived today but threw no light on the disaster and tended to confirm the belief that the Italian censor was holding up dispatches.

"Sorry to inform you Ancona sunk," read the message from the Naples office.

There was no hint that cables sent by the New York office asking for information had been received. It was believed that the message was filed shortly after the news reached Naples but was held up by the censor.

Greeks Supply Submarines?

ROME, Nov. 12.—Greek smugglers are furnishing the German and Austrian submarines in the Mediterranean with fuel and other supplies, it is believed here.

Orders were given by the admiralty today for a systematic hunt of these alleged purveyors of necessities to the enemy.

If this source of supplies can be cut off it is believed the Teutonic undersea boat campaign will still be ended, so far as the western Mediterranean is concerned. Poll, Trieste, Flume and Constantinople will still be available for bases, but naval officers think them too distant for practical use by boats operating in the most recent zone of the German allies' submarine activities.

Rhineland Sunk

LONDON, Nov. 12.—But one survivor, who has landed, is accounted for today from the crew of the British steamship Rhineland, sunk by a German submarine. The Rhineland was of 1,500 tons owned by the Liverpool and Hamburg Steamship company and sailed from Liverpool.

SAYS ARCHIBALD HAD CONTENTS OF DUMBA'S LETTERS

Austrian Embassy Denies "Expose" and Charges Dr. Josef Gorican with Plotting with Allies

GOVERNMENT TO PROBE CASE

Will Investigate the Charge That Dumba Letter Was Prepared in His Own Presence in New York

DR. GORICAR RESIGNED POST

Says He Quit Austrian Consulate in 'Frisco When Asked by Austria to Get Coast Defense Plans

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Captain James F. J. Archibald today emphatically denied all charges made in a story published today to his knowledge as to the contents of papers he was carrying to Austria when arrested recently in England.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—

Sensational charges of Teutonic secret service propaganda in the United States, involving German and Austrian consuls to this country and further implicating James F. Archibald, the American newspaper man recently arrested in England bearing secret messages to the central powers, have created something of a sensation, and that portion relating to Archibald will result in immediate investigation by the government.

Grave significance attaches to the fact that the charges, which were published in the Providence Journal, are made by Dr. Josef Gorican, Austrian consul at San Francisco until last December, when he resigned. He gives as the reasons for his resignation that he was asked by his government to secure detailed plans of the American Pacific coast fortifications.

As published in the "Journal" Dr. Gorican's statement declares that the United States is honeycombed with Teutonic spies. He directly charges German Ambassador von Bernstorff with directing a movement to intimidate workmen of Teutonic nationality from working in American arms and munitions factories. The expose names many consuls from the central powers as participants in the secret propaganda.

Asked in New York City today what he had to say of Dr. Gorican's accusations, Count von Bernstorff, at the Ritz-Carlton said:

"If I answered all the charges made against me, I wouldn't have time for anything else. I have nothing to say about the matter."

Involves Archibald

Dr. Gorican's statement charges that James F. Archibald knew that was in the papers he was found carrying from former Ambassador Dumba to Vienna. Archibald had claimed that he had no knowledge of their contents. Gorican alleged that, contrary to Archibald's statement, the letters and memoranda he carried were prepared in the office of the Austro-Hungarian Consul General Von Nuber, in New York, before Archibald and himself.

Assistant Attorney General Warren said the department had continued its investigations of alleged violations of American neutrality since Dumba's recall and that as soon as more evidence had been collected, a conference with department officials will be held to determine upon a course of action.

Austrian Embassy Denies It

Dr. Gorican is accused of secretly plotting with Russian and Serbian agents with the intent of disseminating disloyalty among Austro-Hungarian emigrants, in a statement issued today by the Austrian embassy.

The statement follows: "Ex-Consul Dr. Gorican, formerly of San Francisco, had been on leave of absence at the time of the outbreak of the war and had been temporarily attached to the Austrian-Hungarian consulate general in Berlin. There, very soon afterward, he obtained knowledge that the Austro-Hungarian authorities had received information about his secret connections with the enemies of Austria-Hungary and evidently fearing detection, he suddenly left his post without permission and disappeared. Later on it was learned that he had gone to Italy and was staying in Rome, whereupon he tendered his resignation, thereby preventing his dismissal."

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

PINES' PROPOSAL

BY JANE OSBORN

(Copyright, 1915, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)
 "Honest Dave, you've got to give me time," the red-haired advertising manager of the furniture firm of Pines, Pines & Noseworthy was saying to Dave Pines, who had lingered after closing hours of the store to speak to Miss Drew on what he referred to in his note beforehand as a "pressing matter of business."

 "You sure did give me a surprise. Why, I'd no more idea that you had taken a fancy to me than that—that that we'd sell out of refrigerators in February. Do you know, if the Morning Bugle was to send over here with the statement that we could double our Sunday advertising space for the same rate as we pay now I wouldn't have been more surprised. But why didn't you spring it on me gradually? I can't say 'yes,' or 'no,' honest, Dave, till I have thought of it. You see, I'm so happy here doing just what I am doing. I've got my little apartment fixed up so cozy and I'm getting kind of fond of my own fireside—gas log, of course—that I haven't thought of marrying. It's been dead easy stalling the others. But with you it's different. I don't just like to say 'no,' when I might be sorry later. Give me time, Dave. When? Oh, let me see. Suppose you wait till after next Sunday. It's Monday today. Well, I'll take next Sunday to do it. I've an awfully hard week coming. That special sale of Grand Rapids antiques we've been trying to sell for the last two years will take some clever 'copy.' No, I can't possibly tell you any sooner. I have thought so little about getting married, I'll have to drop around to see my friends that have gone and done it and see what they have to say about it. Drop in next Monday at about this time, if you're still interested. And, whatever I decide, you and I'll always be good friends, won't we?"

"Say, that was kind of clever copy, if I do say it, and that idea of yours to leave the chairs and tables on that special sale out in the rain for two nights beforehand just did the business. If they had come over in the Mayflower they couldn't have looked more like the real thing. Oh, that's so, it's Monday. No, I hadn't forgotten—had it down on my desk pad, but I guess I'd have remembered any way."

"No, thanks, Dave. I don't think I will go to a hotel for dinner. I've sort of got in the habit of having dinner at home and hotels don't sell much furniture with me any more. Besides, when I have a cold proposition like this to handle I feel better to be right here in the office. I'd ask you to come up to the apartment, but that's too homelike. I want to keep my head, and I want you to see my point of view."

"Tell you my answer? Well, don't be impatient. Take it slowly, Dave."

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, you will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter that one's system collects. If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

and then you'll see why I have decided as I have. You'll understand better. You know I wanted to handle the proposition squarely. As I told you it wasn't just an ordinary 'Will you marry me?' when David Pines asked—red-headed Peg Drew to be junior partner. You know I appreciate the compliment.

"So I started off Sunday morning to see the girls I went to school with—Aggie Dayton, Pearl Hite, Julie Saunders and Moll Braum. They've all married and I thought they'd give me the dope I was after. And I guess I got it.
 "Well, Aggie—I went to her house first. Knew she'd be at home. When a woman has six children and a good-for-nothing husband she doesn't stand much chance of being out on Sunday morning. I was out of breath by the time I got there, four flights up and such a racket! Youngest was cutting his teeth and oldest was yelling because he'd just had to have his baby teeth pulled out. She was mighty glad to see me, though. She hadn't seen any of the girls for years. You know how it is when a girl needs a friend—she usually can't find any. I didn't have to ask her how her marriage had panned out. I tried to cheer her up, though. She had been a good housekeeper once and I asked her why she didn't try this new game of economic independence, if her husband didn't earn enough to get out and earn it herself. But how could a girl like Aggie get out with six children hanging at her apron strings? If she did she'd only earn enough to pay for a nurse, and what nurse would take care of six children?"

"Well, then I went to see Pearl Hite and do you know I was almost scared to go in. Those butlers in plum-colored uniforms always did make me feel shy. Pearl sent down by her French maid for me to come up. She was having her coffee in her boudoir and, do you know, I hadn't been there ten minutes before she burst out crying and told me all about it. She's miserable. Husband's gone off with a vaudeville tango queen and it's all they can do to keep the scandal out of the papers."

"If only Pearl had some children, they might keep her from being so lonesome, but that little, yelping Pekinese is a pretty poor substitute for a live baby. 'You're a lucky woman,' she said to me as I was going. 'Take my advice and stay single.' But say, Dave, you ought to have seen the bedroom suite—real Chinese Chippendale—not any of this rush-order goods either. But the kind that Pines, Pines & Noseworthy never had inside their doors. But, pshaw, what good did it do her?"

"Next place I went was Julie's, and do you know it wasn't till I had reached her apartment that I knew she'd left her husband, though she said it had been in all the papers. It wasn't that he had done anything. She just couldn't get along with him; says that for a woman of independence and an 'emancipated intellect' marriage is a state of bondage. She said it was stifling her soul. So now she is studying law and says she's going to devote herself to making divorce easier in the state. 'Eventually,' she said, 'marriage will be like any other contract, binding only so long as both parties agree. Did you ever hear such rubbish?'

 "What about Moll? Oh, didn't I tell you? Poor thing! She seems to have been happy, but you know she married a German—Otto Braum was his name—and when the first reservists were called out he joined his colors in the Fatherland, and it was only last month after all these weeks of anxiety that she learned that he had been killed in the trenches. So she's gone over to Berlin to join the Red Cross to try and forget her own misery. Poor Moll! And she used to be so light-hearted."

"You are not going, Dave? Why, you look kind of disgruntled. You don't think you'll wait for my answer? Well, if that is the way you feel about it, I thought maybe when you heard you would want to go home with me and have the little dinner that Aunt Mandy has been making—real old Virginia chicken and corn bread."
 "You see, Dave, after I had heard about those four girls and seen what a failure marriage had been for them I just wanted to try my luck and show folks that marriage is a pretty good invention after all. I've just been dying to tell you all day, Dave, but I wanted to get you guessing."

EXPRESS WAGON TO DISPENSE WET GOODS IS PROPHECY

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—Is the express company's little red wheeled wagon to supplant the saloon as the nation's bartender? Where states have gone dry the wets concentrate their wares and forces in the nearest wet center, say the dregs. Wet leaders will not admit it.
 On the Pacific coast, Washington and Oregon have gone dry and British Columbia has prohibition as an issue and the wets are moving their plants to California.
 "Oregon and Washington will have just as much liquor, but it will be manufactured outside their state," is the wets' belief.

do the wets are constructing large warehouses and shipping centers, chief of which is to be in Cheyenne, Wyo. Idaho, also dry, likely will be served from there, too.

"Their plan will be a success for a time, perhaps," said E. C. Dinwiddie, national legislative superintendent for the anti-saloon league. "In certain sections they say may withstand the dry wave for a while."

"When the Webb-Kenyon bill gets into smooth operation, however, when its constitutionality has been conceded everywhere and its loopholes plugged up, it will be good night for the little red express wagon with the red-eye aboard."

"If the wets want any vehicle at all, they'll have to take the water wagon."

"Facts show," said Hugh F. Harvey, national legislative leader for the wets, "that where the saloon goes out, other means of distributing liquor come in. But this nation isn't going dry so fast as you might imagine."

"Many states that go dry have been largely dry for many years under local option. And then perhaps the dregs remember a little election up in Minneapolis."

"I won't say quite yet that it's time to hunt up a substitute for the saloon. But at that, the express plan sounds feasible. It probably will serve until the tide moves in the other 'direction.'"

KERN ASSERTS HE SUPPORTS DEFENSE PROGRAM OF WILSON

TIPTON, Ind., Nov. 12.—Senator John W. Kern, running mate of W. J. Bryan at one time, will support President Wilson's defense program. Before Kern left for Kokomo today on a business trip, he reiterated what he said in his speech last night, that he was opposed to elaborate expenditures for battleships and war munitions in one year, but that he stood back of the president.

Rheumatic Fever

In the treatment of Rheumatic Fever many physicians employ purgatives, but Dr. M. P. Creed thinks that mild laxatives better. When the patient is bilious he gives calomel in small doses, one-fifth of a grain every hour until a grain has been taken. Then after four hours he gives the patient a half ounce of citrate of magnesia, with syrup of lemon to disguise the taste, or he keeps the bowels open with the mild laxative "Actoids." The diet should be light, and all animal food should be excluded as far as possible from the diet. For the pain and fever he has found nothing equal to Anti-Kemula Tablets, giving two tablets every 2 to 3 hours as required. These tablets may be obtained from all druggists in any quantity desired. Ask for A-K Tablets. Unexcelled for Headaches, Neuritis, and All Pains.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

Berne, the City of Many Bears.

"THIS is travel night!" Jack cried. And daddy began: "I will tell you a story about a city that probably cares more for bears than any other city in the world. Perhaps the reason is that hundreds of years ago bears used to visit it from the high Alps that circle all around, for Berne lies beside a beautiful river fed by snowbanks that melt on the slopes of the Swiss Alps."

"What does it look like?" asked Evelyn.
 "Like a quiet town with interesting fountains, queer old clock towers, quaint bridges over the Aare—and bears. Near the east gate is a curious ancient clock where roosters crow the hour. Two minutes before the hour a troupe of bears march in a row around a man sitting on the tower. Then on public buildings are bears wearing a helmet and shield and carrying a banner and sword just like soldiers, and the nice little shops all over the city are filled with wooden bears to sell travelers, bears that the fathers of poor children spend all the long winter carving out of wood cut in the Alps."

"Aren't there any live bears?" Jack wanted to know.
 "Yes, indeed," said daddy. "On the right bank of the river Aare, near a handsome bridge, stands a bear's den with real live bears in it—a father and mother bear, brother and sister bear and a baby bear, just like the porridge story. This den is round and set down in the ground, so that visitors that stand around it looking down at the bear family are safe. Even before history was written in books Berne owned and kept this den, and still the city pays for the bears and their food."

"Does it cost much to feed bears?" asked Jack.
 "Yes, for bears have huge appetites and need straw to lay on and men to take care of them. This very old bears' den is one of the favorite places visitors like to visit. It is even more popular than the wonderful old fountains that often sit right in the middle of the streets, so that wagons have to turn out to go around them. Some of these fountains have strange images carved on them—jolly bagpipers playing music on amazing guitars, old ogres eating men and young archers shooting arrows into the bright air. But any afternoon you go to visit the famous Berne bears you will find a circle of people around their den, lots of little children and their nursemaids feeding the baby bear fruit and carrots and bread."

"Do bears like bread?" cried Evelyn.
 "Just as well as you and Jack do," said daddy, with a hug.
 The children cried, "Thank you, daddy!" and scampered off to bed.

WISE ACTION NECESSARY

The deplorable condition which the county board has discovered at the poor farm calls for decisive action. Nothing is so cheap as soap and water, and the presence of filth and unsanitary surroundings can have no extension. Indeed, if the place was thus unclean and unhealthful upon the expected visit of the board, to say the least one can presume that it would be found in no better condition at other times.

It is useless to take it out of the superintendent. His dismissal is in order, but that alone will not guarantee better service. Not until we get a poor commissioner with some appreciation of his duties, a man who assumes the proper attitude toward his dependent charges and who approaches his work in the right spirit, shall we know that our poor funds are being well expended and that adequate and intelligent service is being rendered.

Too long citizens and officials having especial knowledge of these matters have remained silent for policy's sake. Others whose work brings them into constant contact with the poor have long freely admitted that this department is not in good hands. The time has come for a change. The supervisors are now acquainted with some of the facts, and more information can be secured.

However, any change which does not look to service will be wasted effort. Much depends upon the selection of a new authority. To be worth while he must be a man of sympathy as well as sound business judgment, one who in his own heart could not countenance waste, unnecessary harshness, neglected suffering or filth.

PRACTICAL GENEROSITY

The generosity of Manager Frank L. Koppelberger in turning the Majestic theater over to the Young Women's Christian association six days of Thanksgiving week is a splendid example of helpful civic interest. Thanksgiving week is one of the banner weeks of the year in the show business, and in surrendering it to the cause of the association home, the needs of which are so dire that its very existence is threatened, Mr. Koppelberger sacrifices a valuable private business opportunity.

There is no "string" to Mr. Kop-pelberger's donation. He gives freely and fully. Not one cent of profit will he take for either his house or his services. The actual cost of procuring the attractions, advertising and overhead expense will be deducted, and the entire net proceeds will be turned over to the directors of the association.

The pictures secured are among the most notable film productions of the season. It is unnecessary to say anything of a performer and a play so well known as Walker Whiteside and "The Melting Pot."

"The Rosary's" inspiration was found in the beautiful song of that name, familiar to all. It is a Selig
"Red Seal Play," which commends it to the informed. There is an excellent company, headed by Kathryn Williams and Roland Sharp. There are seven reels. The picture has been a sensation everywhere.

It seems unnecessary to bespeak for "The Melting Pot" and "The Rosary" generous patronage on the part of the people of La Crosse.

DO IT NOW

There's an editorial we aspire to print. But we admit we are a little afraid of consequences. "Let sleeping dogs lie" is an aphorism with the virtue of safety, and nobody likes this Indian summer weather any better than we. But, on the other hand, the leaves are melting from the trees and from our desk's daily memorandum pad.

The thermometer is a temperamental thing. Not so the calendar.
The march of time's moving finger across those substantial black-face numerals, reason tells us, must attract the attention of the weather man sooner or later. Then there will be a little blizzard. The low-cuts and the skeeter-bar underwear will vanish into the limbo of moth-balls, and we shall awake to the realization that our dilly-dallying got us just nothing at all.

"Do It Now" inexorably thunders from that framed motto on the wall.
And so, with one last appeal to the weather man to spare his hand as long as he dares with safety to his union card, we print that editorial:
Do your Christmas shopping early.

THE INDUSTRIAL OUTLOOK

What effect upon industry will the killing or crippling of fifteen million men in the European war exert?

Those who fear a sudden rush of immigration to upset the labor balance of the United States are probably borrowing trouble. Already England has taken steps to prevent immigration. Doubtless other warring nations will follow. Every man whom the war spares will be needed at home in the vast task of rehabilitating the devastated lands and crippled industries.

Instead of an exodus from Europe tending to lower wages in the United States, the outlook is for higher wages in the old world, with a corresponding advantage for our products and our workmen.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

The Call of the West
The haze on the far horizon,
The tint of an autumn sky
The infinite ocean of wheatfields
With the wild geese flying high.
The hum of the busy binder,
The laugh, the song, the jest,
All of earth's wild freedom:
This is the call of the West.

The crisp frost air of the Winter,
The sun in a tropic sky,
The snow-shoe tramp by the river,
The courier's call "Tee Hi!"
The northern lights in the heavens,
The healthiest land and the best,
The nearest to life that's nowhere
Except in the land of the West.

'Tis a land of hope and promise,
Where a man is known by his worth,
To the Russ, Icelander, or Saxon,
No matter the land of his birth.
To each and to all there's a welcome
In this land of liberty blessed.
Oppression and tyranny elsewhere,
But not in the land of the West.

'Tis a land that is free from tradition,
Where a man meets a friend as a man,
Where people are up and are doing—
They can, for they know they can!
'Tis a land that is fast becoming
The home of the wanderer's quest,
Where the patriot sings with devotion:
My country, the land of the West.

And far, far away o'er the ocean,
A sweetheart, a sister, a wife,
Is longing and waiting and wishing To obtain a renewal of life
In this land where for all there is plenty.
That they may enjoy with the rest,
The fulfillment hopes and of promise:
This is the call of the West.

A Good Likeness
The other day a clerk in a mercantile house celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his first day's connection with the firm. Schmidt, the senior partner, handed him in the morning a sealed envelope, inscribed: "In memory of this eventful day."

The clerk gratefully received the envelope without opening it, but on a gracious hint from his chief he broke the seal and found—the photograph of his employer.

"Well, what do you think of it?"
inquired Schmidt, with a grin.
"It's just like you," was the reply.

A Conclusive Answer
"All sorts and conditions of men have explanations for their position in life," said the senator. "A tramp,

WOMAN REFUSES OPERATION

Tells How She Was Saved
by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Louisville, Ky.—"I think if more suffering women would take Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound they would enjoy better health. I suffered from a female trouble, and the doctors decided I had a tumorous growth and would have to be operated upon,
but I refused as I do not believe in operations. I had fainting spells, bloated, and could hardly stand the pain in my left side. My husband insisted that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so thankful I did, for I am now a well woman. I sleep better, do all my housework and take long walks. I never fail to praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for my good health."—Mrs. J. M. RESCH, 1900 West Broadway, Louisville, Ky.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering in a like manner?

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

however, came under my observation who had no illusion about the cause of his own condition. A fine looking and fashionably dressed woman lighted from her limousine at the hotel entrance and was suddenly approached by this shabbily dressed man, who requested a dime.
"No, I have no money to spare for you," she said. "I do not see why an able-bodied man like you should go about begging." "I s'pose, ma'am," replied the lazy tramp, "it's for about the same reason that a healthy woman like you boards at a hotel instead of keepin' house."—Harper's Magazine.

Her First Impression

Recently a woman paid her first visit to the ocean and as she stood on the beach gazing at the great expanse of water a friend happened along.

"They tell me, Mrs. Jones," said the friend, "that you never saw the ocean before. Is that true?"
"Yes," answered Mrs. Jones.
"Most of my life has been spent in the middle west, you know."
"Think of the wonderful treat you had!" eagerly exclaimed the other.
"How did it impress you?"
"Well," thoughtfully answered Mrs. Jones, "when I looked at the amount of water they have down around here it struck me that fish might be a little bit cheaper!"— Philadelphia Public Ledger.

A Careful Dealer

A dejected, sallow, friendless-looking, low-spirited man walked into the grocery store.

"I want some clothesline," he said.

"Whatcher want it for?" asked the man behind the counter.

"To hang clothes on—the old lady's washing today."

"She is, heh?" said the shopkeeper, giving his customer the once over from head to foot. "Well, you go back and tell her to come down here and get it herself. The only way a fellow looking like you can buy a rope from me is on a prescription."

Used to It
"What became of that morning train you used to catch into the city?" asked the city man of the suburbanite.

"Oh, it's taken off!" replied the suburbanite.

"You must miss it?"
"Not so often as I used to!"

Does the baby cry? "Give him a bone," says the wise Indian mother. Here's a happy baby's picture

CHAPTER XXIII Professor McGill

Red Gold City was ripe for a night of relaxation. There had been some gambling, a few fights and enough liquor to create excitement now and then, but the presence of the mounted police had served to keep things unusually tame compared with events a few hundred miles farther north, in the Dawson country. The entertainment proposed by Sandy McTrig-ger and Jan Harker met with excited favor. The news spread for twenty miles about Red Gold City and there had never been greater excitement in the town than on the afternoon and night of the big fight. This was largely because Kazan and the huge Dane had been placed on exhibition, each dog in a specially made cage of his own, and a fever of betting began. Three hundred men, each of whom was paying five dollars to see the battle, viewed the gladiators through the bars of their cages. Har-ker's dog was a combination of Great Dane and mastiff, born in the North, and bred to the traces. Betting favored him by the odds of two to one.
Occasionally it ran three to one. At these odds there was plenty of Kazan money. Those who were risking their money on him were the older wilderness men—men who had spent their lives among dogs, and who knew what the red glint in Kazan's eyes meant. An old Kootenay miner spoke low in another's ear:

"I'd bet on 'im even. I'd give odds if I had to. He'll fight all around the Dane. The Dane won't have no method."

"But he's got the weight," said the other dubiously. "Look at his jaws, an' his shoulders—"
"An' his big feet, an' his soft throat, an' the clumsy thickness of his belly," interrupted the Kootenay man. "For Gawd's sake, man, take my word for it, an' don't put your money on the Dane!"

Others thrust themselves between them. At first Kazan had snarled at all these faces about him. But now he lay back against the boarded side of the cage and eyed them sullenly from between his forepaws.

The fight was to be pulled off in Harker's place, a combination of saloon and cafe. The benches and tables had been cleared out and in the center of the one big room a cage ten feet square rested on a platform three and a half feet from the floor.
Seats for the three hundred spectators were drawn closely around this. Suspended just above the open top of the cage were two big oil lamps with glass reflectors.

It was eight o'clock when Harker,
McTrigger and two other men bore Kazan to the arena by means of the wooden bars that projected from the bottom of his cage. The big Dane was already in the fighting cage. He stood blinking his eyes in the brilliant light of the reflecting lamps. He pricked up his ears when he saw Kazan. Kazan did not show his fangs.
Neither revealed the expected animosity. It was the first they had seen of each other, and a murmur of disappointment swept the ranks of the three hundred men. The Dane remained as motionless as a rock when Kazan was prodded from his own cage into the fighting cage. He did not leap or snarl. He regarded Kazan with a dubious questioning poise of his splendid head, and then looked again to the expectant and excited faces of the waiting men. For a few moments Kazan stood stiff-legged, facing the Dane. Then his shoulders dropped, and he, too, coolly faced the crowd that had expected a fight to the death. A laugh of derision swept through the closely seated rows. Catcalls, jeering taunts flung at McTrigger and Harker, and angry voices demanding their money back mingled with a tumult of growing discontent. Sandy's face was red with mortification and rage. The blue veins in Harker's forehead had swollen twice their normal size. He shook his fist in the face of the crowd, and shouted:

"Wait! Give 'em a chance, you dam' fools!"

At his words every voice was stilled. Kazan had turned. He was facing the huge Dane. And the Dane had turned his eyes to Kazan. Cautiously, prepared for a lunge or a sidestep, Kazan advanced a little.
The Dane's shoulder's bristled. He, too, advanced upon Kazan. Four feet apart they stood rigid. One could have heard a whisper in the room now. Sandy and Harker, standing close to the cage, scarcely breathed. Splendid in every limb and muscle, warriors of a hundred fights, and fearless to the point of death,

the two half-wolf victims of man stood facing each other. None could see the questioning look in their brute eyes. None knew that in this thrilling moment the unseen hand of the wonderful Spirit God of the wilderness hovered between them, and that one of its miracles was descending upon them. It was understanding. Meeting in the open—rivals in the traces—they would have been rolling in the throes of terrific battle. But here came that mute appeal of brotherhood. In the final moment, when only a step separated them, and when men expected to see the first mad lunge, the splendid Dane slowly raised his head and looked over Kazan's back through the glare of the lights. Harker trembled, and under his breath he cursed.
The Dane's throat was open to Kazan. But between the beasts had passed the voiceless pledge of peace.
Kazan did not leap. He turned. And shoulder to shoulder—splendid in their contempt of man—they stood and looked through the bars of their prison into the one of human faces.

A roar burst from the crowd—a roar of anger, of demand, of threat.
In his rage Harker drew a revolver and leveled it at the Dane. Above the tumult of the crowd a single voice stopped him.

"Hold!" it demanded. "Hold—in the name of the law!"

For a moment there was silence.
Every face turned in the direction of the voice. Two men stood on chairs behind the last row. One was Sergeant Brokaw, of the Royal Northwest Mounted. It was he who had spoken. He was holding up a hand, commanding silence and attention. On the chair beside him stood another man. He was thin, with drooping shoulders, and a pale smooth face—a little man, whose physique and hollow cheeks told nothing of the years he had spent close up along the raw edge of the Arctic. It was he who spoke now, while the sergeant held up his hand.
His voice was low and quiet:

"I'll give the owners five hundred dollars for those dogs," he said.

Every man in the room heard the offer. Harker looked at Sandy. For an instant their heads were close together.

"They won't fight, and they'll make good team-mates," the little man went on. "I'll give the owners five hundred dollars."

Harker raised a hand.

"Make it six," he said. "Make it six and they're yours."

(To be Continued.)

Something to Do
Senator Lodge was talking in Washington about a dull summer resort.

"I know a man," he said, "who took a cottage there last summer to please his wife."

"This cottage," said the agent impressively during the signing of the lease, "is just a stone's throw from the station."

"Good," said the man. "That will give us something to do on the long summer evenings."

"Yes," said the agent with a puzzled smile. "Yes? How so?"

"It will give us something to do,"
I said, on summer evenings," the man exclaimed. "We can sit on the front porch and throw stones at the train!"

A Correct Diagnosis
There was a sudden loud report, and Wiggles brought his car to a standstill.

"Mercy!" cried Mrs. Wiggles.
"What was that? It sounded like a revolver."

"It was," said Wiggles wearily.
"It was our off hind wheel. It has stopped revolving."

"Whys" of Moves in European War

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Lord Devonport's warning in the house of lords that Great Britain may be approaching bankruptcy because of the war should not be taken too seriously. The financial situation in all the belligerent countries is disquieting, but chiefly because of the enormous increases in taxation that the accumulating debts will fix on Europe as a permanent blight.

Bankruptcy, for the British empire, is still far in the distance. Lord Devonport is the first to suggest the idea in an alarmist sense. It is probable his real fear is not that Great Britain will repudiate her indebtedness, but that the wealthy classes will be called upon to pay constantly increasing taxes to prevent national bankruptcy. Lord Devonport is regarded by labor interests as one of the leading reactionaries of Great Britain. As chairman of the port of London authority, which controls the docks of the British metropolis, he has constantly antagonized the interests of the workmen and has sought to promote capitalism by every means in his power.

A few days ago, Lord Northcliffe cheerfully expressed the belief that his own income tax would be raised to fifty per cent before the end of the war and would not be lowered with the coming of peace. After the war, said Northcliffe, the poor in Great Britain would be richer and the rich poorer.

It is probable that this new system outlined by Lord Northcliffe, is causing profound uneasiness in Great Britain to the class represented by Lord Devonport. The idea of permanently parting with this wealth to a far greater extent after the war than before the conflict began is abhorrent to the reactionary millionaires.

Under the spur of this disquietude, it is not difficult to understand that there should prevail an exaggerated sense of financial alarm among the reluctant millionaires. To couple uneasiness over a large permanent increase in taxation, which must be borne for the most part, by men of wealth, with a warning about national bankruptcy, is but a millionaire's method of self protection.

Lord Devonport speaks for the moneyed class when he expresses fear of bankruptcy. His plea, not directly expressed, but implied, in all probability is against piling up taxation for the future. To emphasize the seriousness of the situation, he uses the word bankruptcy.

A certain class of British millionaires is thus beginning to revolt because of the costliness of the war. These large taxpayers realize the permanent consequences of the war may be to their bank accounts, and they want to lessen the effect as much as possible. They may compel the introduction of governmental economy; at the same time their discomfort may prove to be an important factor in the work of bringing about peace.

STRIKE SETTLED

CAR SUPPLY INADEQUATE

KAISER DECORATES AMBASSADOR'S WIFE

BERLIN, via The Hague, Nov. 12.

—Kaiser Wilhelm today decorated Mrs. James W. Gerard, wife of the American ambassador, with Red Cross gold medals of the first and second class. This is the first time the kaiser has ever given a decoration of the first class to a woman not of royal blood.

The kaiser also awarded Red Cross medals of the second and third class to Rev. S. Barclay of Cobham, Va., and John B. Jackson of New Jersey. Both have been active in investigating prison camps and suggesting improvements.

Some women are happy because they know how to think they are.

HEALTH INSURANCE

Some people are naturally thin. There is also a natural pallor but most people who are both thin and pale are far from well and they need a tonic.

Many people neglect to take a tonic until they get so sick that a tonic is not sufficient, just because the demand of the debilitated body is not insistent enough. The pale face, weak nerves, enfeebled digestion are neglected until the point where pain or actual breakdown requires medical treatment. A tonic taken in time is the best health insurance. It supports the overtaxed system, the worried nerves until nature can make repairs.

Build up the blood and you are sending renewed health and strength to every part of the body. The appetite is improved, the digestion is toned up, there is new color in the cheeks and lips, you worry less, become good natured where before you were irritable and you find new joys in living.

Tonic treatment is useful in dyspepsia, rheumatism, anemia and nervous disorders, in many cases it is all the medical treatment that is required.

Free booklets on the blood, nerves and diet will be sent on request by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

An Ideal Remedy for Nursing Mothers

Compound of Simple Laxative Herbs Safe for Baby and Mother

Constipation is a condition that affects the old, young and middle-aged, and most people at one time or another need help in regulating the action of the bowels. Harsh cathartics and purgatives should not be employed to relieve constipation, as their effect is only temporary while they shock the system unnecessarily.

A remedy that can be used with perfect safety for the tiniest babe and that is equally effective for the strongest constitution is found in the combination of simple laxative herbs known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and sold in drug stores everywhere for fifty cents a bottle. This is an ideal household remedy and should be in every family medicine chest.

Mrs. F. L. Barsolow, 18 Leslie St., Holyoke, Mass., wrote to Dr. Caldwell, "Syrup Pepsin certainly is fine. I gave it to my baby, Evelyn, and also took it myself. It is the only medicine I have been able to take without affecting Baby in the nursing."

EVELYN BARSLOW

ing. I have used it for all four children and it is fine; they like it and ask for it."

A trial bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can be obtained free of charge by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 454 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

SERVANTS SHOULD BE WELL PAID SAY MONTCLAIR WOMEN

They Believe Help Should Get from $22 to $25
Wages Per Month

What Montclair Housewives Are Doing to Solve the Servant Problem

1. Got the school board to establish free domestic science for maids and housewives.
2. Are writing 500 letters to housewives for data upon which to base a standard scale of servants' wages.
3. Plan a municipal testing station for all servants applying to housewives for work.
4. Seeking to classify and standardize the work of the "one maid to a family" plan most popular.

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

MONTCLAIR, N. J., Nov. 12.—The Housewives' league of Montclair expects that a year hence this community's servant problem, that bugbear to the women of almost every city in the land, will be solved. Much progress already has been made toward getting plenty of efficient house help of all classes, toward standardizing the pay and the division of work for each servant. The haphazardness of these things done away with, thinks President Mrs. Chauncey H. Marsh, the servant problem will be solved and the jokesmiths will lose one of their most lucrative sources of income.

Five hundred letters have been mailed, in addition to the 200 already sent out, asking as many housewives a series of servant problem questions. Upon an analysis of the answers will be based the servants' standard of wages of Montclair. An analysis of the 200 answers already received shows that a girl doing housework, but no washing, for an average family of five, should get $22 to $25 a month.

What the schedule will be for the maid who cooks, washes, makes beds, minds the babies, fires the furnace and scrubs, will be determined later. Each community, says Mrs. Marsh, should put its own servant service on an efficient basis the way Montclair is doing.

"We want," said Mrs. Marsh, "as every community should want, to pay a rate sufficient to attract capable, high-standard help; for by raising the standard of the servant, we will make life pleasanter for the housewife, husband, kiddies and the servants themselves."

"Since Superintendent Bliss has opened the schools' domestic science classes to housewives and servants, the teachers have been swamped with students anxious to improve their cooking, sewing, etc."

Housewives may now catch their servants young and educate them to suit, without cost other than taxes that they now pay anyhow, in the public schools. A co-operative servants' organization to work with the Housewives' league, may also be organized a little later.

WOULD PENSION CIVIL SERVICE

ROCKFORD, Ill., Nov. 12.—

Adoption of a resolution urging pensioning and retirement for federal civil employees and tabling of a resolution recommending government ownership of telephone and telegraph lines marked Thursday's session of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs. Because there are several high notes in The Star Spangled Banner that make it difficult to be sung, the federation tabled a resolution that the song open all meetings.

PRESIDENT HAS LOVE OF ACTRESS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—"I love you," May Irwin, the actress, told President Wilson yesterday, "and it is not because you are president. I have loved you throughout my career. So have my two sons and my husband."

"You don't know," she said, "how I have grieved over the suffrage defeat in New York. Had it passed I would have been able to vote for you next year."

The president smiled appreciation.

KLEINHEINZ IS OTIMISTIC OVER SHEEP OUTLOOK

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 12.—Frank Kleinheinz, the state's official flock-master, is optimistic over the sheep situation.

Present conditions, among which he mentions the short age of sheep, gives him assurance that sheep men will be well rewarded for their painstaking efforts, indications being that prices for both mutton and wool will be good for several years.

In an open letter to Wisconsin sheepmen both present and prospective,
Mr. Kleinheinz urges the raising of sheep of good mutton type which will also produce a good sized fleece of satisfactory quality.

Although convinced that there is no "royal road to success" in sheep raising, this experienced sheepman is convinced that only by combining good breeding with good feeding can the best or even satisfactory results be obtained "These are two essentials," he says, "which should never be separated. One without the other will only lead to decreased profits and possible failure."

Monastir and Prilep Are

FIGHTING BECOMES BIG BATTLE

Bulgars Said to Be in Desperate Resistance to Allies Along Big Front

BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
MONASTIR, Serbia, Nov. 11.—(Delayed)—The allies are firmly established in southern Serbia, it is claimed here.

Monastir, Prilep and the region around them were in imminent danger for a time from the oncoming Bulgars, but the French saved them when they recaptured Veles to the northeast from the invaders.

The Monastir Serbs feel safe again today for the time being. Refugees who fled from Prilep are returning. American doctors who escaped from Uskub before the Bulgars arrived there are due here tonight after an exceedingly roundabout trip through Albania, the only route by which they could avoid the invading forces.

Austria faces great difficulty in controlling its Croatian and Dalmatian subjects, who, sympathizing with the Serbs, are deserting from the Austrian ranks in great numbers and joining the Serbians.

General Battle Develops
ATHENS, Nov. 12.—Skirmishing, which has progressed intermittently for several days between the Bulgars and the Anglo-Franco-Serb allies along about a ninety-mile northwest and northeast line across the southern Serbia, is merging today into a big general battle.

Bulgars Resist Desperately
BUCHAREST, via London, Nov. 12.—Bulgarians are said to be desperately resisting the Franco-British advance today along a sixty mile line extending from the vicinity of Veles, in southern Serbia to the region southeast of Strumnitza, on the Bulgarian side of the frontier.

Their attempt to check the allies seems vain. The latter have now occupied the town of Gradsko and are moving forward steadily, the French artillery clearing the way for the Franco-British infantry and cavalry forces. Northeast of Veles the Bulgars' retreat verges on a rout, with the French chasing the fugitives.

Bulgarian losses are enormous. The allies are constantly bringing up reinforcements from Salonika.

Italy Promises Aid
LONDON, Nov. 12.—Italy has agreed to lend sufficient aid to the allies in their Balkan campaign to insure their complete success, according to a dispatch from Rome today.

Because of inside information that the Rumanian government is determined to such a fate as Belgium's, officialdom here expressed much doubt today of reports that Russia has been allowed to land troops on Rumanian soil for a movement into Bulgaria.

The story is that the czar's forces ascended the Danube and made their landing at Silistria, thirty miles north of the Bulgarian border.

That Rumania may join the allies if the Balkan campaign develops so that they are in a position to protect her from invasion, is deemed possible, but at present, it is pointed out, she could be completely overrun by enemies without a chance of receiving aid. For this reason it is strongly questioned that she has Russian and Serbian agents, obviously with the purpose of going to the United States to use his knowledge of the center of the Slav immigration coming from the monarchies, in the service of the Pan-Slavonic propaganda and with the intention of disseminating disloyalty among our immigrants against their country of birth. The Austro-Hungarian embassy has been informed that quite a number of southern Slavs from the monarchy have been enlisted by the agents of the allies and left this country in order to fight against Austria-Hungary. It is very probable that Dr. Gorica's activity contributed to these very regrettable acts of treason which certainly, without changing the outcome of the war, will be of the gravest consequences for those who will be made prisoners of war.

Worked With Allies

The Austro-Hungarian embassy has been informed for several months of Dr. Gorica's agitatory propaganda carried on in this country, but has refrained until now from taking counter measures, being aware of the disgrace brought about by the fact that a former consular officer has broken in such a way the faith and allegiance of his fatherland. In view, however, of these present statements which contain the strongest accusations against the representatives of Austria-Hungary, the embassy emphatically declares these accusations as false and absolutely baseless, as silence otherwise would be taken as acknowledgement and would create the belief that our consulates actually engaged in activities in violation of the laws of this country.

DICTAPHONES FOIL THEM

—FRANKFORT, Ind., Nov. 12.—Eight prisoners safely housed in the county jail here today will carefully inspect the premises for dictaphones before they attempt another jail delivery. When they attempted to escape last night through a 14 inch tunnel, they ran into the arms of deputies, who had been waiting for them thirty-six hours. They were then told of the dictaphone. Two of the men were charged with jail breaking today.

Serbs in Flight in Moravia
BERLIN, via London, Nov. 12.—Hot pursuit by the Bulgarians of the Serbs who are trying to escape to the westward from the Moravia valley still progresses today.

The Serbs are fighting rear guard actions and were very closely pressed but evidently are mainly intent on getting out of the Moravia river region before they are surrounded. The Bulgars are taking many prisoners and great quantities of booty including ten locomotives and 400 railroad cars, of which fifty are loaded with munitions and supplies.

WINONAN JAILED AS RICK OBJECTS TO PUBLIC EMBRACE

Patrolman Rick, of the night force, has objections to embraces in public. As one result of his prejudice, Miss Anna Linhart, of Winona, is occupying a cell in central station, according to the story told by the police today.

Rick entered a chop suey restaurant at 124 South Third street, shortly after 1 o'clock this morning, and Miss Linhart threw her arms about his neck. Whereupon the patrolman declared her under arrest and started to take her to the station.

Miss Linhart objected—loudly and vigorously, according to the police. She is a buxom woman and the arrest was not completed without the assistance of several pedestrians the policeman called to his aid.

She was to be arraigned in court late this afternoon, charged with resisting an officer.

NEUTRAL NATIONS WILL MOVE SOON FOR PEACE HE SAYS

Jordan Makes Prediction While Reporting on the Congress at San Francisco

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Definite overtures by a group of leading neutral nations to the belligerent powers for the purpose of bringing about a cessation of the European war will be under way by Christmas. This prediction was made today at the white house by Dr. David Starr Jordan of California, president of the international conference, which recently met at San Francisco.

A preliminary meeting of unofficial representatives of the powers at war and of the neutral nations has been called for December 14, at Berne, Switzerland. Out of this, Dr. Jordan said, he expected there would be created a continuous commission made up of quasi-official delegates from neutral nations, which would address to the warring powers a proposal of mediation. The commission, he predicted, would sit continuously until the close of the war at The Hague, Berne or Copenhagen.

Presents Resolutions

Dr. Jordan's purpose in calling upon the president was to present to him resolutions adopted at the San Francisco congress calling upon the president "to co-operate with other neutral governments in calling a conference of neutral nations which would constitute a voluntary court of continuous mediation, invite suggestions from each of the warring nations and in any case submit simultaneously to all of them reasonable proposals as a basis for peace."

Although Dr. Jordan declared that the status of such a commission would be materially strengthened if the United States became a party to it, he expressed the personal belief that, regardless of whether the United States joins or not, the other neutral powers would act. In any event, he observed, the calling of the conference would come with better effect from one of the nations closer to the scene of the conflict than the United States.

Dr. Jordan added that if the commission were successful in bringing about its activities for peace, it should be maintained to work in the future in maintaining everlasting peace. If it were unsuccessful at the present time, as he believed it possibly and even probably would be, he said, it would be continued to work steadily until the desired and inevitable end was reached.

Mr. Brewer grows warmly enthusiastic when you engage him in conversation upon the topic of La Crosse's natural scenery. Little wonder. Who with eyes can look at the pinks, the lavenders, the purples that nestle among our bluffs in these November days and remain calm and self-possessed? One's vocabulary of epithets and superlatives is soon exhausted. Speech seems pitifully inadequate to express what one sees and feels.

This week does not end the art exhibits to be held in the public library, as soon as this one is down, an exhibit of etchings will take its place, and will be on view, with perhaps some original drawings from a well known cartoonist, for two or three weeks.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

THIS is the caution applied to the public announcement of Castoria that has been manufactured under the supervision of Chas. H. Fletcher for over 30 years—the genuine Castoria. We respectfully call the attention of fathers and mothers when purchasing Castoria to see that the wrapper bears his signature in black. When the wrapper is removed the same signature appears on both sides of the bottle in red. Parents who have used Castoria for their little ones in the past years need no warning against counterfeits and imitations, but our present duty is to call the attention of the younger generation to the great danger of introducing into their families spurious medicines. It is to be regretted that there are people who are now engaged in the nefarious business of putting up and selling all sorts of substitutes, or what only for adults, but worse yet, for children's medicines. It therefore devolves that for themselves, but the child has to rely on the mother's watchfulness. Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher

The sidewalk in front of the home of C. A. Ludwig was ordered torn up by the committee on streets and sidewalks. When the laborers appeared to start work, they found Ludwig on hand with a shotgun. Mayor McCoy was bluffed out and ordered the laborers to stop work.

When they heard of the mayor's action, the committee on streets and sidewalks resigned.

WAR IN EUROPE BRINGS CHANCE TO AMERICAN BREEDERS

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 12.—Never in the history of this country have the opportunities for success in the business of breeding draft horses been as great as at the present time. This statement was made by Wayne Dinsmore, secretary of the Percheron Society of America, at a meeting of Wisconsin stockmen held here. According to Mr. Dinsmore, the European war has destroyed very much of the best breeding stock developed in the noted draft horse centers of Europe. Breeding establishments known the world over for their excellence, he declares, are no longer in existence. "The loss to the draft horse industry, however, is not as great as it would have been had not American horsemen for years been importing to this country as good foundation stock as could be obtained from the European studs," said Secretary Dinsmore. "It is not improbable that at the close of the war European countries will be forced to turn to America to re-establish their studs. If American breeders are to meet this and the now growing demand in this country it will be necessary for them to keep and develop much of the stock which they now have on hand."

He regards Wisconsin as especially well adapted to horse raising

NEW STYLES IN CORSETS NEEDED FOR NEW MODES

Early Nineteenth Century Bodices Bring Up Need of New Lines in Stays

Hip, hip, hurrah! No more the stay! Will bind your hips unduly! They're free once more With curves galore And most becoming truly.

BY MARGARET MASON (Written for the United Press.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—You can't put an 1830 bodice on a 1915 figure with any great success. Hence, since femininity just must wear these adorable little boned and pointed bodices it is up to femininity to reconstruct the female form divine. Special corsets to make the firm foundation for this work of reconstruction are now on the market and the spot.

They differ in three vital points, or perhaps we should say curves, from "little old last year's" stays. They are two and three inches higher in the bust, smaller and more curved at the waist and most amazing of all, they are shorter and less boned over the hip, with what is called a "free hip" finish.

Fashion on Hip
 Doesn't it just take your breath away to think that you are going to have fashion on your hip again? What will probably take your breath a trifle more, however, is when you pull on your 1915 corset strings to get the new curved-in waist effect. Don't let anybody else string you for it's going to be a mighty hard yank. Let there be no waste of energy in the pull, either, or there will be no waist of modish dimensions in the corsets.

Front lace corsets are gaining ever increasing popularity because of their great comfort as well as their good lines. They are most successful with medium and heavy figures. For the truly svelte the back lace effects are the most approved models. Simplicity of line and adornment is the keynote of the new corsets and they are staid stays indeed.

Corsets in All Colors
 Frills of lace and ornate trimmings are lacking, but in many exquisite pale tints of silk broche are the corsets evolved in their entirety. Where once all save white or flesh tinted corsets were frowned upon by the fashionably elect, now maize, azure, Nile green, mauve, grey, apricot and even black ones are clasped to most fastidious bosoms. Verily, with the new high lace corsets either front or back; and the new high lace boots front, back or side, the sartorial success of this season's dame hangs on a string. She starts it with a corset lace and ends up with a shoestring.

Week's Offering in Movieland As Seen in La Crosse

By N. D. Tevis

Griffith's "The Birth of a Nation," will open its week's engagement at the Majestic theater Sunday. The biggest compliment which can be given the picture is to say that its claim as the foremost film ever shown in America, is unchallenged. It is the world's greatest photoplay production. It even rises above the almost universal word, "movies,"

FILMS AT LA CROSSE HOUSES NOW

BIJOU—Trail of the Lonesome Pine star, Charlotte Walker, is playing today in "Out of Darkness," a new Paramount.
CASINO—An assorted program with one of the famous Keystone comedies in the offering today.
MAJESTIC—An Equitable picture, "Divorced," with the English actress, Hilda Sprong, as star.

and is entirely out of the category of even the best in motion pictures in America.

While the Metro and Paramount services will bring some of their best to the Casino and Bijou during the week, they will be lost track of in the Majestic's triumph. The production has been called the "eighth wonder of the world," and its coming is an event of events.

As a spectacle, the picture unfolds a world unknown to moviedom heretofore. The minutest details of the history through which it takes the audience are carried out. Griffith made details a religion during the eight months which he consumed in making it. Throughout its twelve reels there is maintained that same tense action, which was injected into the original stories by Tom Dixon, the Georgia Baptist "parson" who wrote the tales upon which the picture is based.

The "negro question" is the film's big issue, naturally, as it dwells at length on the so-called "reclamation" days of the old south. The "Leopard's Spots" and "The Clansman," Dixon's books, were hooted out of the south, and "The Birth of a Nation" has had hard sledding, as many persons in the southern states considered the bringing back of the old question—that of the struggle of the north and south—bad form. The "wounds" have healed, and the new south has come out of the old south. The European war has greatly aided this, and it might be better if Dixon and Griffith had expended their efforts in some other sort of picture—but—and there comes the hitch. There is something so fascinating about the picture; about the subject itself even, it will have to be admitted, that even those disagreeing with its apparent object, clamor to see it.

Bijou Features

Charlotte Walker, star of "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," and actress needing little introduction in La Crosse, is featuring one of the latest Paramount pictures, "Out of Darkness," at the Bijou today and tomorrow. The film is a true-to-life drama. Its scenes were laid in Florida. A brief look at Porto Rico is given in another South American travel picture, being shown on the program with Miss Walker.

"The Case of Becky," Blanche Sweet returns to the Bijou in her latest Lasky-Paramount picture Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The actress, who is watched by a continent, will play "The Case of Becky." The film is rated high by photoplay critics and bids well to be a huge success here. Supporting Miss

"big brother movement" in America, and one of the best of the late Keystone comedies, "The Little Teacher," will also appear with the Hart feature. "Fatty Arbuckle" is the feature of the Keystone and another fact that ought to make it a beater is that Max Sennet, now with the Triangle service, is director of it.

The Metro offers George Branson Howard's play, "An Enemy to Society," at the Casino Monday and Tuesday. Edgar Jones, director of "The Bigger Man," and "The High

Sweet are Theodore Roberts, James Neill, and Carlyle Blackwell. Miss Sweet assumes a dual role in the play—a girl with two personalities—one happy, and the other vicious.

"Peer Gynt," another of the best pictures of recent release, according to critics "dope" will play at the Bijou Thursday. Cyril Maude has the leading role. The picture will hold more than ordinary interest to both stage and movie fans in La Crosse, for Maude will appear at the La Crosse theater soon in the stage production of "Grumpy."

Here's "Man From Oregon"

"The Man From Oregon," a Mutual-Masterpiece film to appear at the Casino Wednesday and Thursday is a story of official life in Washington. It has the solid atmosphere of the national capital. The railway lobby plans to "get" the new senator from Oregon. The woman lobbyist is brought into play—in short, the picture is a big thing and one which the fan will want to see more

Majestic Today

"Divorced," an Equitable corporation picture is the Majestic's attraction today and tomorrow. Hilda Sprong (celebrated as an English emotional actress is taking the leading part. The picture is inclined towards the sensational, and its theme is an old one; the mother accepting aid from a wealthy man for the support of her son, however, the film ends with a moral.

LABORITES HAVE REST AT 'FRISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—The American Federation of Labor sought entertainment today in a program ranging from inspection of the Mare Island navyyard to fireworks at the exposition tonight. No business session of the convention was held.

President Samuel Gompers, recovering from an attack of the grip, remained indoors at his physician's order.

Japanese fraternal delegates were seated in the convention for the first time. One of the two Japanese, speaking to the convention yesterday, said the organized labor movement in his country was only three years old and its leaders hoped it would become as strong as the A. F. of L. He told of the struggle between reactionary and progressive forces in Japan.

Many a man's future has been spoiled by his wife's social success.

THE SILO

PLANT DISEASES ARE ATTACKED ON FOUR FRONTS

Plant diseases must be studied under practical field conditions in order to find the best and quickest ways of checking them.

With this point in view, investigations by representatives of the Agricultural Experiment station were carried on this year at four different places in the state where special plant diseases have been especially troublesome.

In each case the trial plots used in the work were located on farms near the point where the laboratory tests were made. The high schools in the towns where the experiments were under way donated the use of office and laboratory space.

Further studies in the control of cabbage diseases have been conducted in Racine county, with J. C. Walker in charge. At Sturgeon Bay apple and cherry diseases were investigated by E. W. Roark. Investigations of cucumber leaf spot and "white pickle," both diseases of importance to the pickle industry, have been in charge of E. Carsner at Princeton. Potato diseases in relation to the production of seed stock were studied at Waupaca with R. D. Rands of the university, co-operating with Dr. H. A. Edson of the United States department of agriculture.

SEED GROWERS ORGANIZED
"Locals" of the Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment association have been formed to develop the pure bred seed growing industry in fifty of the seventy-one counties of the state. The first organization of this kind was that formed in Fond du Lac county in 1907, and the last was the Waushara county order which has just been organized with forty-two charter members. R. A. Moore of the University of Wisconsin is the secretary of the state association and has assisted in the organization of many of the county branches.

FARM POSTERS IN DEPOTS
By displaying attractive posters that give live information on farming in a direct and definite manner, the railroads of Wisconsin are co-operating with the Agricultural Experiment station and the farmers of the state in the development of Wisconsin's most important industry.

Poster bulletins published by the Experiment station on such subjects as "Control of Noxious Weeds," "Potato Growing," "Control of Hog Cholera," and "Crop Marketing" have been placed during the past summer in railroad depots and waiting rooms throughout the state.

GREY WANTED TO FOLLOW HALDANE
LONDON, Nov. 12.—Sir Edward Grey wanted to resign as foreign secretary when Lord Haldane was eliminated from the English cabinet, he told the house of commons on Thursday. He would have done so, he added, if it had not been for the war crisis.

"I regret," said the foreign secretary, "that no opportunity has arisen to utilize his lordship's services in the foreign office. I considered his retirement from the cabinet a great loss to the public."

Sir Edward's statement was a sensation in parliament. Haldane, who was lord chancellor in the ante-bellum cabinet was not included when the coalition ministry was formed early in the war because the English public considered him pro-German.

DRAINAGE PROJECT STARTED
STEVENS POINT, Wis., Nov. 12.—The Wisconsin Drainage company has started work digging the ditches to drain 1,200 acres of land in the towns of Hull and Stockton, in Portage county. Fifty farmers have contracted with the company to drain their farms. The work will be completed within thirty days.

SOUTH AMERICA BEGINS STUDY OF OUR MUNICIPALITY

Administrative Methods and System of Finance Are Inquired Into

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—The average American city, a one-time subject of criticism by foreign observers, is coming into its own. The authorities of two large South American trade centers have asked for information about the administrative methods and finances of cities in this country.

The bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, department of commerce, has just completed for one of the inquiring municipalities, a study of the financing of improvements in American cities, the desired facts being quickly gathered from the wealth of information at hand on the subject. Within the department, there are exhaustive statistics of that class, published by the bureau of census. Also, reviews issued by the municipalities are on file, and the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, through its editorial staff, was able to prepare a full bibliography of publications dealing with city taxation and financial management.

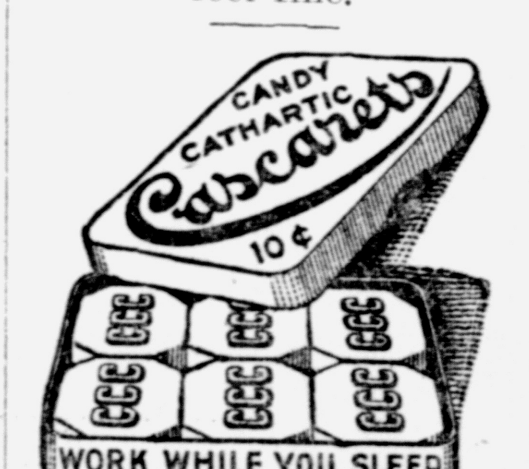

The second South American request was for official publications of the principal cities in this country, on city improvement, public works, construction laws, and municipal organization or reform. The bureau is preparing to furnish the desired publications, and also to make systematic efforts to bring these communities into closer touch with those of the United States. It is expected that the projected work will contribute toward stronger business relations.

One of the South American communications involved other important matters which enable the bureau to bring the large public works that are included in the city's new fiscal plans to the attention of investors, contractors, and suppliers of materials, in this country. The war has prevented certain capitalists in Europe who have heretofore invested extensively in such enterprises from extending their interests, and the authorities of the foreign community have turned to this country for a portion of the means of carrying out their projects, as well as for models of management. The bureau is therefore able to furnish not only instructive facts to be sent abroad, but also business opportunities at home.

BRAHMANS CREMATE DEAD ON SUSSEX DOWNS IN ENGLAND

Strange Ritual Accompanies Consuming of Body; Ashes Shipped to India

By WILBUR S. FORREST (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

SUSSEX DOWNS, near Brighton, Eng., Oct. 19.—(By mail.)—"Ram Ram satya hai; Om Ka nam satya hai." It is the funeral chant of the Far East, intoned many times a day now, thanks to the war, on the picturesque Sussex Downs of England. Just as the sun drives its first golden rays through the haze of early morning, a strange procession of thirty barefooted, turbaned figures, chanting in measured tones that rise and fall whitefully along the valley, ascends the grassy slope and deposits on the ground its burden—a form swathed in folds of flowered cretonne and covered with white chrysanthemums.

You are witnessing the funeral rites at the cremation of a Brahman of the Arya Somaj, whose ashes will go to his people in far India and be scattered on the waters of his favorite native river. Brahmans are never buried.

On the crest of the hill before the chanting mourners in the "ghat"—crematorium; a small enclosure sheltered by a corrugated iron screen. A stately Brahman steps forth from among the gesticulating mourners and unlocks the gate, disclosing three partitioned-off compartments. The first platform is carefully cleaned and sprinkled with water. Thus it is purified for the reception of the dead. Heaps of wooden blocks now are piled upon it in the form of a coffin.

Then follows the ritual. The mourners surround the body in a semi-circle. The flowered cretonne is drawn, revealing the peaceful, bronze-pale features of a youth. The jet hair falls back straight from the forehead. The face is sprinkled with cleansing water, then drops of honey and ghee—(clarified butter made from buffalo's milk)—are given to the lips.

Squatting on their haunches the mourners, hands folded, eyes downcast, chant—first murmur, then a soft-drawn wail, then shrill sounds like the howling of the wind and finally a shout. While this is repeated many times, comes the burning. Ghee is poured upon the pyre. Raisins, almonds and other foods are scattered liberally over the body.

The Brahman ritual, which consecrates death unto fire, stipulates that four qualities precede the burning—odiferous, nutritive, sweet and curative.

The body now is laid gently upon its platform and covered with wood and straw. Burning camphor is poured on each corner and in the center of the pyre and a mass of flame leaps upward from the slab. Ghee, fruits, scents, saffrons and spices are fed to the blaze by the mourners; and to the wail, chanted dirge the Brahman's body is consumed.

Tomorrow his ashes will be taken from the ghat and placed in a box addressed to India. A photograph, taken after death, accompanies the box. Thus will the parents know that their Brahman offspring died for England.

"TOMMY" GIVEN LIFT BY THE HEIR TO BRITISH THRONE

(By United Press Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, Oct. 13.—(By Mail.)—How a weary, dust covered British "Tommy" had the surprise of his life when given "a lift" in a military automobile on a country road in northern France has just been told in London.

Two officers were in the car. They talked to the "Tommy" and he was soon telling his troubles. Soon he produced a picture of his best girl from one of his innermost pockets. The officers congratulated him on the good looks of his girl and he finally ventured:

"I suppose you, too, sir, carry a photograph of someone?" The younger of the two officers replied:

"Well, I've got my father's photo about me and I'll give you one if you like." He produced a golden sovereign and slipped it into the "Tommy's" hand. On the sovereign was the head of King George. "Tommy's" companions were the Prince of Wales and a brother officer.

PRESIDENT TO SEE LEADERS ON PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—President Wilson will hold a series of conferences with republican leaders in both houses of congress to determine their stand on his national defense program, it was said at the White house. No engagements have been made but it was announced that they would be as soon as possible.

It has been said that the president's contention is that the defense of the country should not be a party issue.

LIGHTS SAVED COWS
DENISON, O., Nov. 12.—Bert Hanna, railway conductor, drives to work in an auto, coming home via the same route after dusk. Cows being driven from pasture by boys narrowly escaped being hit, so the boys tied white lights to the cows horns and red ones to their tails.

This device saves the cows, but confused Hanna, for every time a cow swings her tail he gets a stop signal, and he wants to know what delays him.

SHERWOOD WILL OPPOSE DEFENSE PROGRAM OF WILSON

TOLEDO, O., Nov. 12.—Congressman I. R. Sherwood said here he would oppose President Wilson "to the bitter end" in his war preparedness program. "Personally, I do not believe the president is in favor of this half billion dollar expenditure," said Sherwood. "But in Washington we have 10,000 officers and soldiers who live off the fat of the land, busy themselves with social functions and lobby for the armor, steel and powder trusts. These militarists' sole purpose is to increase dividends."

"One year ago the president declared in a speech: 'We never have had, and while we retain our present principles, we never shall have a large standing army. If asked, are we ready to defend ourselves, we reply: "Most assuredly, to the utmost and we shall never turn America into an armed camp."'

"Why this sudden change of mind?" questioned Sherwood.

How easy it is to acquire a bad reputation and how difficult it is to lose it.

HORSE'S KICK IS FATAL TO BOY AT PRAIRIE DU CHIEN

Leo Hardell of Patch Grove Dies at Sanitarium from Fracture of the Skull

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis., Nov. 12.—(Special.)—Leo Hardell, three-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hardell of Patch Grove, Wis., died at the sanitarium here as the result of a kick in the face by a horse.

The little fellow was playing in the barn yard of his home. His father had taught him not to fear the horses. In fact, he had often placed his small son on their backs. Leo trudged in the direction of the animal, a big heavy work horse. The sight was new to the horse.

In a second the horse kicked Leo in the head. His mother heard a short scream and ran to her small son's help. It was found at the sanitarium here that the skull was fractured.

THE STORY OF "THE ROSARY"

Scenario of First of Famous Film Productions to be Shown at Majestic Theater Thanksgiving Week for the Benefit of the Y. W. C. A.

"The hours I spend with thee, dear heart, Are as a string of pearls to me. I count them over every one apart, My rosary, my rosary."

(Written by Edward E. Rose)

A wide plain in a desert place. It is night. Gradually light comes as the stars, one by one twinkle and appear in the firmament. One by one the stars appear until there is a veritable highway of stars, seemingly millions of them, all outlined against the azure of the heavens. We see, as though looking through the center of the glittering roadway, far down to earth, two dim figures, and they toll onward and onward as they follow the guiding star. Slowly each star seems to glide into its place until they form a rosary.

At the same time the walls of a rude building vanish in the starlight, and we see as if inside the stable, the cattle in their stalls and the Christ-Child lying in the manger.

"I tell each bead unto the end, And there a cross is hung."

Over in the Emerald Isle nestles a farmhouse and Brian Kelly approaches from school, bearing in his hand a bouquet of roses for his mother. Father Ryan, the beloved parish priest, meets Brian and together they turn to Brian's mother. "Your boy Mrs. Kelly, wishes to study for the church," says Father Ryan. Tears spring into the mother's eyes. Her kindly face is wreathed in a proud smile.

"It is the dearest wish of my heart, Brian," she tells her only son. "Remember, my boy, you must renounce everything," says Father Ryan, as he gives Brian his blessing.

"You must renounce everything!" Brian leaves the old farmhouse. "I must give her up," he tells his mother as he leaves. Down in a romantic Irish glen there awaits the girl. As Brian Kelly approaches, she sees he is no longer smiling. "I love you," he tells the maiden, "but there is something here, a feeling, a voice within me, always speaking, always urging, calling me to give up my life for our church, to mankind, and I must do it."

They pass up the glen, hand in hand. Below them in the valley is a little country church, its white cross pointing heavenward. The girl leaves Brian Kelly. He stands there alone, looking after her. Slowly the cross upon the church grows radiant until it stands out against the blue background of the heavens.

In a small town in New England, Father Brian Kelly cares for his flock. He receives a letter from Edward Wilton asking that Father Kelly confer with him regarding his son, Bruce. Father Kelly has a haunting memory of such a man, but cannot recall his identity. Nevertheless, he goes to New York city. He finds Edward Wilton on his death-bed. Wilton asks Father Kelly

EL GRAN GALEOTO TO BE READ IN THE NORMAL COURSE

Mrs. Isabel Garghill Beecher to Give Presentation of Modern Social Drama

In her dramatic recital at the normal school Monday evening, Mrs. Isabel Garghill Beecher will present an English adaptation of the great modern social drama, "El Gran Galeoto," or, as it is better known in this country, "The World and His Wife."

"Galeoto" is the gossip of idle tongues; the go-between, which, as the drama points out, by its persistent, insidious venom, often really brings to pass the evils it conceives, by the power of suggestion, tremendous and awful in its possibilities.

Mrs. Beecher's beautiful portrayal of the true-hearted Sir Julian and his equally worthy wife, the subtle introduction of Mercedes, plotting to destroy the happy domestic relations existing between husband and wife, and Ernesto, the son of Julian's former bosom friend, and one entirely worthy to share the home and family circle, are clear and true.

Each character comes and goes on the stage at Mrs. Beecher's command, and when the curtain falls, it is exclaimed: "What she did." Her whole soul is filled with the theme, and the audience forgets the medium, and sees the drama; sees and hears each character, strikingly alive and romantic.

This entertainment constitutes the third number of the Normal Lecture course.

tainment consists of Mesdames Fallis, Gunderson, Huard, Earl and Armstrong.

Miss Anna Dunn is in La Crosse this week consulting a doctor regarding one of her eyes.

Frank Peyer of Ossian, Iowa, was in the city Wednesday and Thursday looking for a location to start a storage plant. He will move his family here.

James Andrews of Patch Grove was a Prairie du Chien visitor Wednesday and Thursday.

Frank Gander of Soldiers Grove, ex-county clerk, is in the city attending county board meeting, which is in session this week.

POLAND IN AS BAD CONDITION AS WAS BELGIUM THEY SAY

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—With Paderewski and Mme. Sembrich among those most actively interested, a movement is under way here to bring national recognition to the Polish relief campaign similar to that of the Belgian relief. Its backers already have talked to men close to President Wilson and to congressional leaders.

The claim is made that the situation is as bad in Poland as it ever was in Belgium. The committee here declares that "unless relief is had at once, amounting to $5,000,000 a month, the race will disappear."

This is followed by the statement that even the wealthiest are living in shacks and caves.

Tomorrow night from 7 to 11 the junior class of the normal school will make its first attempt to raise funds to offset the debt incurred by the purchase of the football blankets. The juniors are to stage a County Fair, and according to the posters, not even small pox should keep one away. Attractions which will rival those of the San Francisco exposition are promised. The whole school will be utilized for carrying on the many various events. The large auditorium will be used for the vodvil, to be featured by Lulu Hester, M. Main, and Alice Taylor as fancy dancers, numerous laugh provokers, and a sketch put on by a bevy of fifteen pretty girls. Naturally ice cream, candy and cracker-jack will accompany the fair. The fortune tellers will be there and even a baby show in which infants which have won blue ribbons in the west will be on display. Censored "movies" will be shown and for those of more artistic temperaments a photo gallery of Paris models will be open for inspection. It is expected that the dancing will prove to be one of the more popular attractions of the evening.

FOREMAN INVENTS A NEW VALVE GEAR

Thomas E. Paradise of Burlington Round House Is Granted Patent on Improved Device

Word was received in La Crosse this afternoon that a patent has been granted Thomas E. Paradise, 1817 Kane street, roundhouse foreman at the shops of the Burlington road at Grand Crossing, on an improved form of valve gear for locomotives.

Mr. Paradise said this afternoon that the invention which had been granted a patent, was an improvement on the Walchait valve gear, now used largely on locomotives. His invention changes the "lead" of the engine, regulating the amount of the emission of steam into the cylinder at the start of each stroke. It is claimed to be more economical than the present valve gear, in that it reduces the "lead" in the full stroke and increases it in the cut-off. Engines using the Walchait outside valve gear do not start heavy trains properly because there is too much lead, said Mr. Paradise.

The Walchait outside valve gear replaced the Stevenson gear because of its accessibility. The Walchait model possessed a constant lead, the same amount of steam being emitted into the cylinder whether the engine was hooked up to a train on the full stroke. The invention of Mr. Paradise is designed to overcome this fault of the Walchait, which prevents it from rendering the service done by even the old model Stevenson, in that it changes the "lead" from zero in the full stroke to five-sixteenths or whatever the adjustment may be, in the cut-off. It is expected that the invention will be given a thorough trial by the railroads running into La Crosse.

MAROON WARRIORS PASS LA CROSSE

Stagg's Bunch Occupies Three Coaches on Train Which Goes Through Early Today

The University of Chicago football team, led by Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg, the wizard football mentor of the Midway, and Captain Pete Russell, elusive quarterback, went through La Crosse on passenger train No. 47 of the Burlington railroad at 3:15 this morning. About 30 members of the team, together with the coaches and trainers were in three coaches.

The passenger train which conveyed the gridiron warriors was only the advance guard of the Maroon contingent which will be in Minneapolis for the big game tomorrow. A special train of fourteen coaches will reach La Crosse over the Burlington road early tomorrow morning, bearing, it is estimated, more than 900 maroon rooters. They will leave the Midway at 9 o'clock tonight and will be in Minneapolis between 7 and 7:30, according to officials of the road.

The Maroon rooters and players will return on the same train, it is expected, leaving Minneapolis at 8 o'clock Saturday night. They will pass through La Crosse at midnight.

BUDGET MAKING AWAITS ACTION OF COUNTY BOARD

Council Must Mark Time Until Supervisors Settle City's Share of Taxation

Budget-making, outside of possible inconclusive discussion, will not be part of the work transacted by the city council at its regular November meeting tonight. This was predicted today from the fact that the county board has not yet got down to business and the important factor of the city's share of county taxation is still uncertain.

It was expected that the meeting tonight, after a short session for the disposal of routine business, will adjourn for a week to allow the county board to adopt its budget.

Finance committee meetings held Wednesday and Thursday resulted in no budget recommendations, Chairman Smith said this afternoon. A meeting will be called early next week at which the committee's report will be formulated, he said. The date of the meeting is not set.

NORTH SIDE BAND WILL GIVE DANCE AT HOLMEN HALL

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggy, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" age and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

IMPROVES QUICKLY AFTER TAKING NATURE'S CREATION

MRS. ALVA GIBSON

Along with hundreds of others, Mrs. Alva Gibson, Box 213, Barnesville, O., says: "I can conscientiously recommend Nature's Creation, from my own experience, as the best and only medicine for bronchitis, impure blood and any other diseases leading to tuberculosis."

Mrs. Gibson had a bad cough in spring, 1912. The doctor said it was caused from catarrh. It got worse all the time; she could not sleep three or four nights in succession.

"I changed doctors," writes Mrs. Gibson on May 4, 1915, "but it did no good. My mouth was full of sores; had severe pains through chest and under shoulder blades; digestion poor and I was weak. After taking Nature's Creation but a few weeks there was a great change in my condition. My cough gradually disappeared and the pains in my breast subsided. It was the first relief I had secured for many months. My appetite, digestion and sleep improved and I gained in strength and weight. My neighbors thought it wonderful. I have not taken any of the medicine for about a year and a half and am feeling fine; do all my own work on a large farm."

The above case is by no means unusual, as Nature's Creation is producing remarkable results everywhere every day.

Sufferers from tuberculosis—as well as conditions leading to it, like asthma, bronchitis, catarrh, impure blood and run-down system, say there is nothing like it.

Everybody should learn the truth about this remarkable remedy, which we will gladly furnish. Write for a copy of our new booklet, "Truth," containing photos and testimonials of former sufferers. Address Elmer Hansen, 32 Sentinel Bldg., Milwaukee, Wis. Nature's Creation is not a patent medicine and is not sold in drug stores. Beware of substitutes—demand the original and genuine Nature's Creation. Watch for Nature's Creation testimonials, which will appear in this paper every Friday.

PEACE SEEMS FAR OFF WHEN FEDERALS DRAFT O. B. STARS

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Baseball men today admitted themselves puzzled at the action of the Federals in signing two coast league stars—Joe Gideon of Salt Lake City, and Jimmy Johnston of Oakland, by the Newark club. They professed to see in the action a cessation of peace negotiations for at least several months.

The signing of the two men is believed to be the forerunner of another "raid" on O. B. forces by the third leaguers. John Ganzel, manager of the Brooklyn Feds, has admitted that he has eight stars of the International league signed up for next season.

PROVEN SWAMP-ROOT AIDS WEAK KIDNEYS.

The symptoms of kidney and bladder troubles are often very distressing and leave the system in a run-down condition. The kidneys seem to suffer most, as almost every victim complains of lame back and urinary troubles which should not be neglected, as these danger signals often lead to dangerous kidney troubles.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which soon heals and strengthens the kidneys is a splendid kidney, liver and bladder remedy, and, being an herbal compound, has a gentle healing effect on the kidneys, which is almost immediately noticed in most cases by those who use it.

A trial will convince anyone who may be in need of it. Better get a bottle from your nearest drug store, and start treatment at once.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation, send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the La Crosse Daily Tribune.

SHE HAD TO PAY BIG SUM TO HAVE HER SONG PRINTED

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—John T. Newcomer, known as John T. Hall, guiding light to unsophisticated musical geniuses, sat in Judge Foster's federal court yesterday and confronted scores of lyrically inclined poets, male and female, black and white, who swore he had victimized them. Hall is charged with misusing the mails in with his music publishing business.

Annie M. McHenry of Lum, Mich., recited her masterpiece to the court, to show how inspiration had been trodden in the earth. Here it is:

"Baby bye, swat the fly, you and I!

"How he crawls, o'er our walls, coming

"From the horses stalls

"And into our victuals crawls.

"Kill him dead! Strike his head!

"Doctor said

"If you swat him we neglect

"Who will then our health protect."

"That song and 'Honest Dan' cost her $35 she said. Pearl Haynes of Anderson, Ind., paid $25 to get one of her inspirations published. Her "royalties" were 23 cents. George Kneeland, 40, of Columbus, O., also paid $35 for "Mother, Be My Guide."

IMPORTANT SETTLEMENT TODAY OF DEATH CLAIM

Mrs. Caroline Olson of 1206 West avenue south of this city was awarded $2,000.00 by the state industrial commission as compensation for the death of her husband, Olaf Olson.

The claim arose out of an injury sustained by Olaf Olson while in the employ of Segelke-Kohlhaus Mfg. Co., on April 14, 1914, and which resulted in his death on the 12th of last month.

The compensation is payable in weekly installments covering a period of six years. The Employers' Mutual Liability Ins. Co., of Wausau, Wis., of which A. Hirschheimer of this city is a director and first vice president, insured the Segelke-Kohlhaus Mfg. Co.

The insurance company relieved the S.-K. Mfg. Co. of their personal and overhanging liability under the compensation act, made certain to the widow the weekly compensation by depositing with the La Crosse Trust Co. to the credit of Mrs. Olson the present value of the weekly payments.—Adv.

CHICAGO IS BABY CENTER HE SAYS

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Chicago is one of the "Baby centers" of the world, in a report submitted to Mayor Thompson yesterday by R. John Dill Robertson, commissioner of health, the city was credited with having 59,600 babies born in it during the last year. Of this number, the report says, 6,880, or one out of nine, died before reaching the age of 12 months.

In the report Dr. Robertson recommended open air rooms in schools for Chicago's 7,000 tubercular children, one health department physician for each school instead of one for every four, as at present, and an increase in the number of playgrounds of the city. The report also asks that more money be spent in preventing disease and less on asylums, jails and reform schools.

Last year, Dr. Robertson declared, the health department examined 115,547 children. Of these 63,031 were found defective, 43,187 were advised to seek immediate treatment, and 10,671 took the advice, leaving 32,516 whose parents or guardians neglected them.

NOTHING SHRINKS, FADES, WRINKLES

Women save $5 in an hour by dry cleaning at home with gasoline.

Women here who have tried dry cleaning find it very easy and inexpensive to clean and freshen all the ribbons, silks, satins, laces, yokes, furs, silk shirtwaists, kid gloves and shoes, neckties, children's clothes, suits, caps, Swiss, lawn, organdie and chiffon dresses, woolen garments, fancy vests, draperies, rugs, in fact, any and everything that would be ruined with soap and water.

Get two ounces of solvite at any drug store and put it in two gallons of gasoline, where it instantly dissolves, then put in the goods to be cleaned, rub a little and out they come, looking as bright and fresh as new. You will find nothing fades, shrinks or wrinkles, requiring no pressing.

You can do five dollars' worth of home dry cleaning in an hour at little cost. It is so easy and you can't make a mistake. Any grocery or garage will supply the gasoline and you can obtain two ounces of solvite at the drug store which is simply a gasoline soap, then a wash boiler or large dish-pun completes your dry cleaning outfit.

As gasoline is very inflammable, be sure to do your dry cleaning out of doors or in a room away from fire or flame, with the windows left open.

HIGH SCHOOL MEN HAVE EASY WORK SCRIMMAGE TODAY

Seconds Drilled in Minnesota Shift the Star Play of St. Paul Central

The high school pigskin warriors have been resting up this week. Monday and Tuesday there was no practice. On Wednesday they went through a light signal practice and last night they were given a final brushing up, showing much speed.

Mr. Gouldin and Mr. Kline of the high faculty saw the St. Paul Central-Mechanics Arts game last Saturday, which Central won, 28 to 0. Some very fast work was shown. They brought back dire reports. "Speed will beat that team" was heard on all sides after the Sparta game with Hoffman's sensational dashes. Horne's men will get the test a week from Saturday.

The seconds are doing all they can to help. With the two faculty members helping and with "Fire-cracker" Puckett behind them making them go, every night since Monday they have been drilling on the Minnesota shift, the play used entirely by St. Paul. It works well. It was shown last night, when they walked on the thirds. The snappy end runs and the long passes are going to give the first something to think about when they meet tonight for the first scrimmage of the week.

Still Coach Horne, together with Mr. Spence, who is on the field every night giving the team some valuable hints, have often seen this style of game played and they have not been idle. It is not thought that the first's goal will be greatly endangered. Their offensive work has been steadily improving and the northerners will not be the only ones to spring surprises.

Reget Better
Members of all squads, on the whole are in fine condition. Kulczynski being the only one to show a limp during the running of a couple of laps on the track last night. "Young Si" Zeisler is out once more. "Hebby" Reget has joined the first squad through heady and persistent work with the seconds. Layman is fast rounding into shape, and best of all news to the football contingent is to the effect that Captain "Wallie" Reget, who has had the flinx on his trail this year for sure, has returned to school. Not only that, but upon the removal of the plaster cast the first of this week, an examination by the doctor showed his foot to be in very good shape and rapid mending is expected from now on. "Wallie" may play against St. Paul Central and pilot the team.

SALTS FINE FOR ACKING KIDNEYS

We eat too much meat which clogs Kidneys, then the Back hurts.

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean, and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is harmless to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity. It also neutralizes the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is harmless; inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean, thus avoiding serious complications.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

NORMAL PREPARED FOR TITLE SCUFFLE WITH RIVER FALLS

Coburn and Grauer Stage Lively Competition for Center Position

SECONDS PLAY NORTH SIDE

Students Hold Mass Meets to Stir Up Interest; They Go on Parade Tonight

Everything is in readiness for the important normal conference game between River Falls and La Crosse tomorrow.

The La Crosse normal this year has probably the best team that has ever represented it. The team works creditably fast despite the fact that it presents an average bulk of 156.8 pounds per man. Jackson, who plays right tackle, is the heaviest individual, balancing the beams at 179.

Wachter is next with a weight of 173. Coburn is third with 170. La Fromboise next with 168 and Captain Strum is the last of the heavier men on the team; Art weighs 159. Coach Sputh is in doubt concerning one position in tomorrow's line-up, that of center for which Coburn and Grauer have been fighting. Coburn is the heavier man by nine pounds and appears to have a shade the better chance of opening the game against River Falls. However, Grauer will most probably be given a chance, and also Bechtold and Grounds. "Shorty" Grounds, although not a regular, is the smallest man on the first squad for he weighs but 139 pounds; he relies upon his speed for a place in the backfield. Holthaus, left end, weighs but three pounds more than Grounds, and Skemp is but three pounds heavier than Holthaus. Miller at right end has a serious problem of his own. Tomorrow he will play against Richards, a giant, who, they say, will attempt to govern affairs around his end.

North Side Plays Seconds
An interesting preliminary game has been arranged for at 1 o'clock. The north side team, which has met and defeated many of the smaller teams around here, will take on the normal seconds. Some of the north sideers consist of normal and high school men. A lively contest is anticipated. The north side team will line up as follows: R. Dwyer, lb; Casperson, lt; Merfield, lg; Pierce, c; Shivers, rg; Wittenberg, rt; Gittens, re; La Fore, qb; Steusser, fb; G. Gibson, (captain), rrb; Frank, lhb; Shaefer, E. Dwyer, subs.

Students Parade Tonight
The normal spirit has been gradually rising since the defeat of Stevens Point last week. Yesterday morning a practice mass meeting was held. J. R. Moore gave an explanation of the game of football, so there is no remaining excuse for the fair sex showing a lack of interest. By this morning the spirit had developed to a much greater degree and one of the best mass meetings of the year was held. Tonight it is the students' intent to parade the streets during the supper hour. Tomorrow the band will be out in force and Cheer Leader Riehe contemplates some car splitting cheering at the game.

First Games Are Played in Normal Co-ed Tournament

Physical Ed Juniors Beat Primary Juniors and College Course Licks the Country School

This week witnessed the first games played in the normal school girls' basketball tournament, which is being conducted under the supervision of Miss Lenora Thompson. On Tuesday night it had been planned to pull off two contests but one team from each division failed to show up. The Primary Juniors, accordingly, played the Physical Ed Juniors, who were victorious in a walkaway, 29-0. On Wednesday students witnessed two exciting contests. The Physical Ed Senior girls met and defeated the State Graded team, 5-0, while Captain Shirley's College Course aggregation romped away with the long end from the Country School, 6-3, in a hard struggle. The semi-final games will be played on Tuesday, November 16, when the winners of this week's contests will meet. The final championship match for the women's basketball supremacy will come one day later, on November 17.

YANKS TRAIN AT MACON
NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The New York Yankees will train next season at Macon, Ga. The main division will report there on March 1, it was reported today.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—There was a mixed trade in wheat futures today. An uncertain tone was in evidence and the volume of business limited. Prices opened up 1/4c and changed over yesterday's close. Later in the day December and May each showed advances of 1/4c to $1.03% and $1.05%.

Corn prices were easier. At the opening overnight recessions of 1/4c and 1/2c were noted. Later prices were up 1c and 1/2c to 60 1/2c and 63 1/4c, buying on the dip being chiefly responsible.

Oats prices were unchanged at the start. Later May advanced a fraction on a little buying.

Provisions were higher on reduced receipts.

HISTORIC SCENES OF CIVIL WAR REPRODUCED FOR THE MOVIES

VETERANS AGAIN LIVE OVER WAR IN GREAT MOVIE

Old Soldiers Declare That "Birth of a Nation" Battle Scenes Are Faithful to Life

Some rulers seem to fear that there is no burning and suffering hereafter to which their faithful and loving subjects may be consigned after death, so they hurry into war to supply them with that necessity beforehand.

Any one who imagines there is a halo of beautiful romance about the soldiers' lot—that battle is grand and suffering and falling on the firing line the proud goal to which man's ambition should always aim, will be most beautifully disillusioned when they experience the "roar, the fury, the hell of war," as only D. W. Griffith, in a thousand decisive battles of the Civil war, has shown it up to the white light of day, in his overwhelming spectacle, "The Birth of a Nation," which appears at the Majestic theater for a week beginning Sunday afternoon.

On these mighty and horrifying battles we have the best military authorities, as well as the words of every old veteran who has witnessed the presentation, that they are actual pictures and so natural they can almost feel again the smarting sting of the bullet which caused their wounds or experience the ooze of the hot blood spurt from their beloved comrades' heart when it struck their cheek.

The Birth of a Nation does not make battle glorious—it pictures peace in glorious allegory instead—and shows war as it actually is—stripped of anything like glory, unless to see men and horses die and be trampled under feet like dogs constitutes the glory of battle.

Nor does the music—it pauses in its majestic swing to sound the notes of horror and concern, of pain and death and broken hearts as it should—for those are the true results of war.

If this graphic presentment serves no other purpose, its message for universal peace marks it of great importance. Morally and educationally it establishes the futility of armed conflict.

Senator Approves
A member of the United States senate expressed the foregoing sentiment:

"Anyone contemplating war should see this picture," added the senator. "I sincerely believe it will do more to deter people from engaging in war than anything written or spoken on the subject in years."

Grant and Lee at Appomattox; a scene from the Battle of Petersburg; Lillian Gish, as Elsie Stoneman; Miriam Cooper as the Little Colonel's Sister—in "The Birth of a Nation."

Miss Mae Marsh, in chief feminine role.

CARE EXERCISED IN CASTING THE GRIFFITH DRAMA

Six Men Tried and Found Wanting Before Actor
Was Picked to Represent Lincoln

Not the least remarkable feature of "The Birth of a Nation" is its cast. With the care that characterized every other detail of the mighty spectacle, David W. Griffith picked the people to work out his great plans. It was a constant search for types. Six men were tried and found wanting before the actor was chosen to represent Abraham Lincoln, the great war president, whose role is one of the most important in the drama.

Ralph Lewis, who plays the role of Austin Stoneman in "The Birth of a Nation," has a role that, during the original production of "The Clansman," created much discussion. It is said the character is founded on Thaddeus Stevens, a member of the house during the reconstruction days, and one of those largely responsible for the carpetbag rule that predominated in the south during that period.

Henry Walthall, leading man.

MUSICAL PROGRAM GREATLY VARIED AND INSPIRATIONAL

Karl Breil's Remarkable Score Fully Rendered at Each Performance by Symphony Orchestra

The splendid musical score, especially written and arranged for Griffith's master conception, "The Birth of a Nation," by Professor Karl Breil, is said to be one of the grandest, best varied and most inspiring programs ever gotten together.

It is fully rendered at each exhibition of the play by a symphony orchestra and synchronizes perfectly with each of the several thousand scenes.

Must Train for Month
So complicated is the blending in about each of these special numbers, to the visual scene to be thus matched, that each leader has to "sit in" with an orchestra playing it a full month before he is competent to direct the score himself. And each orchestra put out on the road is thoroughly rehearsed day and night for two weeks under this director before attempting to handle the music.

As no spoken lines or lecturing can explain the masterful story being unfolded, this orchestra, by its serene or sweet, calm or stormy, wild or picturesque passages, illustrates or "brings home" to the spectators each one of the scenes and every variation of the immense action.

No more splendid conception of art and sound has ever been successfully carried to its fulfillment than this glorious reproduction and none works up the audience to such a pitch.

Whole Offering Here
La Crosse gets the whole offering that New York, Chicago, Milwaukee and the big ones got—symphony orchestra, effects, traveling crews to put the work on and all, when "The Birth of a Nation" comes here at the Majestic next week.

Volumes and volumes of the highest possible commendation have been heaped upon "The Birth of a Nation," with its accompanying symphony orchestra, its hosts of specialists to put it on and its intricate effect machinery, etc. Those words from nearest home—the Milwaukee papers—naturally will carry the most weight, and here, from the Milwaukee Leader of July 6, is a fair sample of them:

"The greatest motion picture yet made accurately describes 'The Birth of a Nation,' David W. Griffith's film spectacle, of the Civil war, now being shown at the Davidson."
